Blackboard Ally -- Who? Why?

- NJ, including Atlantic Cape where many of our adjunct instructors also teach
- Ally is fast becoming an expected part of the standard technology toolbox
- Existing content can be converted automatically into accessible alternate formats.
- Institutional reporting is available
- Instructor specific reporting and feedback available.
- Product is regularly updated; updates do not

Blackboard Ally and the LMS

Ally is integrated with but separate from Blackboard

 Ally is LMS agnostic – If the University decides to adopt any one of the following LMS platforms, Ally is currently available for:

Canvas

- Moodle (self-hosted)
- Blackboard Open LMS (i.e., the old Moodle Rooms service)
- Ally conversion files stored separately and do not impact the storage levels used by the LMS
