

Log In

Sign Up | Forgot Password?

1 user logged on

Tips: BlueJerseyDotCom (AIM) |

What's Happening Today Thu. 10/10/2013

by: Bill Orr

Thu Oct 10, 2013 at 09:11:31 AM EDT

"Obama is a Tyrant" and "bodies floating around of shooting victims" were just a few of the extreme comments uttered by former Bogota Mayor Steve Lonagan in the last U.S. Senate debate with Newark Mayor Cory Booker. Democratic candidate Booker offered a strong performance last night - firm, rational, and giving no quarter to Steve Lonagan. In fact he made Lonagan flustered, mad and defensive on occasion. Booker frequently tied Lonagan to the Tea Party and added statements like "You are very much on the extreme on this issue." Several times the debate became heated with each interrupting the other. Lonagan may have felt empowered as he threw out red meat because there appeared to be a large contingent of like-minded individuals in the audience.

- » Stovetop Diplomacy
- » Sustainable Cherry Hill
- » The Subversive Garden
- » Teaneck Progress
- » Trenton Kat
- » We Don't Need
Permission
- » Xpatriated Texan

Cartoons

- » M.e. Cohen
- » Jimmy Margulies
- » Drew Sheneman
- » Rob Tornoe

Search

Diaries

Advanced Search

Contact Us

- » Editor: contact@bluejersey.com
- » Press releases: news@bluejersey.com
- » Advertising inquiries: ads@bluejersey.com
- » Tips: tips@bluejersey.com

About Us

- » About Blue Jersey
- » Blue Jersey in the News
- » FAQ/Usage
- » Advertising
- » RSS Feed

Misc Stuff

- » Blue Jersey Radio
- » Blue Jersey on Twitter
- » Facebook Group
- » MySpace Page
- » NJ Politics 101 Wiki
- » Blue Jersey Podcast
- » Screaming Carrot Award
- » Contribute to Blue Jersey

8437 satisfied users, 0 visits and 0 subpoenas served since Sept 28, 2005
© Blue Jersey, powered by the mighty SoapBlox

Powered by: SoapBlox